Mogzilla, United Kingdom, 2006. Paperback. Book Condition: New. New. 214 x 136 mm. Language: English . Brand New Book. Spartapuss diary tells of how a Kiton slave became a prisoner, the prisoner became a gladiator. But will the gladiator become history? Rome AD 36. The mighty Feline Empire rules the world. A ginger cat is comfortable managing Rome's finest Bath and Spa complex. But Fortune has other plans for him. There's a nasty incident in the Vomitorium. He's arrested and imprisoned by Catligula, the Emperor's heir and favourite. Released into a school for gladiators, our Fraidipuss hero must fight and win his freedom in the Arena - before his opponents make dog food of him. Reviews Cat-tastic! - London Evening Standard A highly original story with lots of scope for giggles, it also provides some background history and can't fail to delight cat fans (or otherwise) everywhere! - This is a must for any child who has studied, or is about to study, Roman history at school. a perfect story for children to read themselves or for parents to join in. Fabulous! - Andrea Don, Young fans of ancient Rome will love this book and it's a great introduction for those who are not yet familiar with its history. Spartapuss, a ginger tom cat, falls from favour as manager of the finest bath and spa in Rome and ends up fighting for his life in a school for gladiators. The characters are full of life and there is a surprising amount of historical accuracy to watch out for. This is the first of a series, so watch out for more! - Sam Beck, Packed with more catty puns than you ever thought pawsible, this witty Roman romp is history with cattitude. - Junior...
